Max Moroni

La Vita
9 Main St
East Haddam, CT 06423

Dear La Vida,

My name is Max Moroni, and I am writing to you to apply for the Spot as the new domain Administrator position that you have open. I saw this position while looking at Indeed and thought it to be just what I am looking for. My training in ADDS (active directory domain services), databases, and knowledge on how to install and set up a domain makes me an ideal hire for this position. I am also knowledgeable on how to train and help people on anything tech related.

I am open to work as a Domain Administrator or someone that works with your servers/databases. I have always found this an interesting field of work and know how important it is to keep the business running smoothly. I thought your business was the right one for me to work for because it offers all of the benefits that I have been looking for in a job and I have heard you have always been fair and respectful towards your employees. I am a hardworking individual who is highly trainable. I go to Vinal Technical High School, I am skilled at working with my hands and I have an excellent work ethic. I am taking college computer science classes and plan on going to college for networking.

I am open to learning new skills and can work well in a team. The job I am currently at I have been able to use the entire team I have been given to the best of their ability to be able to get the job done well and done fast. I used to also work at a great company called Charles IT. I worked there as a tech support person and would go to different businesses to work on and install their servers and wire up their ethernet.

Thank you for taking the time to read my resume and my cover letter. I hope to see you in an interview and to discuss my qualifications for this job. You can Email me at max.moroni@cttech.org you can also contact me by calling or texting (959)-222-3417 about any information about moving forward about an interview. I can't wait to talk to you in person.

Sincerely,

Max Moroni
